

The NAEPC Education Foundation
2012 Individual Donor Contribution Form

Have you ever heard someone say...

"I'm too young to do estate planning."

"Doesn't the government provide for that?"

"All my property is titled in joint tenancy with my spouse so I don't need a will."

"Estate planning is only for the super rich."

"Estate planning is too complicated and expensive."

- THE NAEPC EDUCATION FOUNDATION MISSION -

- Provide the public with financial awareness programs and improve financial literacy;
- Educate the public regarding the benefits of the multi-disciplinary team concept of estate planning as espoused by the National Association of Estate Planners & Councils;
- Develop educational programs for estate and financial planning professionals;
- Develop and promote a community outreach program for the general public; and
- Hold educational conferences, seminars, forums, and meetings regarding estate and financial planning.

Our objectives for public outreach are to educate Mary & John Q. Public about these issues: what is estate planning; why is estate planning so important; what are the reasons to do estate planning; and who the professional team of advisors are that stand ready to assist individuals with their estate plans. In the process, we will correct the misconceptions about estate planning while emphasizing the benefit of the multi-disciplinary team approach. NAEPC and The NAEPC Education Foundation represent the entire community of professional estate planners through the over 230 affiliated local estate planning councils and their combined 27,000 members. The NAEPC Education Foundation is the logical organization to provide the leadership necessary to educate the public about estate and financial planning. Please join us with your financial and in-kind support.
